

Family Child Care at Its Best A Series of Early Care and Education Classes

Sponsored by the Center for Excellence in Child Development, UC Davis
Funded by the Child Development Division of the California Department of Education

■ ECE: Learning through Relationships with Infants and Toddlers

Students must attend both sessions to receive credits or units.

Saturday, April 9 &
Saturday, April 16, 2011
9:00am-2:30pm

This course addresses the emotional, social, intellectual, and physical development of infants and toddlers and the supportive role of the caregiver. Participants will gain an increased understanding of the role of relationships and emotional development in learning.

Topics include:

- building trust with infants and toddlers
- understanding the temperament of children and adults
- helping children become confident learners
- talking with parents about developmental processes

This series of classes emphasizes the needs of children from birth to age five. The series aims to enhance the quality and safety of family child care environments. Each class makes practical use of the most recent research in child development and early childhood education.
